St. Stanislaus Rockchaws have accepted a bid to participate in the Shrimp Bowl Friday December 5. They will meet the Ocean Springs team. The Rocks have had a successful season this year, winning six games, losing two and tying one.

The Lion's Bowl game between the Fleas and Flies has been postponed until Saturday, December 6. The change was brought about when the Rockchaws accepted the bowl bid for December 5.

Olen Department Store will open a Bay St. Louis branch in the former Bay Mercantile bldg. opposite the Merchant's Bank in the near future. They have stores in various parts of the country with branches located in Pascagoula, Moss Point and other cities in the state.

Next Sunday, December 7, will mark the hundredth anniversary of the Main Street Methodist church. In recognition of this anniversary, a day is being planned to observe the occasion. Bishop Marvin A. Franklin, Bishop of the Jackson area, of the Methodist church, will bring the Centennial sermon. Following the morning service, a dinner will be served at the church followed by a brief afternoon meeting of an informal nature. The public is cordially invited to join the membership in this historical celebration.

It seems as though no one thought about the bad points on keeping the old bridge for use as a public pier when the suggestion was first made. Last week, in a letter from Howard LeTissier, some very good points were brought to the attention of the public regarding this structure, and this week, we are printing letters from Don McCulloch and Ben Hille giving reasons why this bridge should stay or be removed. If you have any ideas on the subject, we would be happy to receive your letters and will print them, provided they are signed by the writer.

The Bay High Band Auxiliary will sponsor a review given by the pupils of Hazel Nuss School of Dancing of New Orleans in the Bay High auditorium Saturday, December 13, at 7:30 p. m. All proceeds will be used for the benefit of the band. General dancing will follow the show at the Youth Center. Music will be furnished by Kramer's Orchestra.

WOOL GROWERS SELL 1952 CROP

The 1952 South Mississippi Wool Clip was sold this week to Adams and Leland, a Boston firm, through their agent, Herbert Loeb, located in Shreveport, Louisiana, president of the South Mississippi Wool Growers Association, announced.

The clear white wool sold for $5 a pound; light burry and lamb $3 a pound; hard burry, $2 a pound; and black, $3 a pound.

The sale of the wool, which is usually completed in June and delivered in July, was delayed this year because of the lack of markets brought about through the use of synthetics. Last year, the crop was sold by January 30, for clipping in May, at $1.00 per pound, the president added.

Activity in the market was started only in the last 30 days. Mr. Loeb, who has purchased the wool from the South Mississippi Association for several years, stated that each year a finer quality of wool is produced because of the better grade of sheep the growers are getting.

The average sheep will produce about seven or eight pounds of wool; the native animal about three pounds; and the full-blooded registered ewe will average 13 pounds.

There are 120 wool growers in Hancock County, who with other members of the Association from various counties, will load their wool in Poplarville Tuesday, December 2, or in Wiggins Thursday, December 4, at the respective depots. In all, three cars, totaling 30,000 pounds of wool, will be shipped from South Mississippi.

Officers of the South Mississippi Wool Growers Association are Mr. Ladner, president, of Poplarville; D. C. Wahl, Hancock County, vice-president; and J. M. Sinclair, Poplarville, secretary.

Recipes for holiday goodies were given each member.

Miss Weaver announced that anyone, whether a member or not, may attend the aluminum tray making bee, scheduled for January 12 at the Agricultural Center. The materials must be ordered now, so the agent asked that all persons interested contact her at the Center.

A two-day upholstery school will be held at the Agricultural Center January 23 and 24. After the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess.

Chairman Ramond, answering several inquiries as to the Lions Club's disposition of their share of any profits, stated that every penny will remain in Hancock County, and be used to start eye examinations for every child in the County, and also furnish glasses for any child whose parents are not financially able to handle the cost.

St. Stanislaus College band and Bay High school band will furnish music during the game, and also perform during the half time. A Queen and her King and Court will be on hand, and the queen will be crowned immediately before the game, and reign in a special sideline box.

This year, "Freedomgrams" are of this country can send messages being employed so that citizens of encouragement to persons who still hang on the threads of hope of being free again. The telegrams of freedom you send will be broadcast over Radio Free Europe. "Freedomgram" Centers will be set up in every major city in Mississippi, and will be under the direction of the American Legion, Mr. Lutken stated.

Freedomgrams, in the form of prepared telegrams, are messages on the theme of freedom, addressed to Iron Curtain peoples. All visitors to the Center are urged to sign a freedomgram as their personal participation in the greatest mass effort at encouragement of Red captives in the Crusade's history. The nationwide goal is at least 40,000,000 signatures, which when achieved will be translated into a tremendous instrument of truth propaganda.

Pat Smith Is Youngest Novelist in State

With publication set by Little, Brown, & Company, twenty-five year old Pat Smith, of Mendenhall, becomes Mississippi's youngest novelist. His novel, "The River Is Home," has for its setting the bayous and swamps of the lower Pearl River section of Mississippi.

His writing career was begun at Mendenhall High School as editor of the school paper, then continued at Hinds Junior College as editor of "The Hindsonian" college paper, and sports correspondent to the Clarion Ledger and Jackson Daily News. After graduating from Hinds he attended Ole Miss, where he was fiction writer for the college magazine, "The Rebel." He left the University as a senior at seventeen and joined the Merchant Marine, making trips as a deck seaman to North Africa, Europe, Canada and Central America. Shortly before leaving the Marines he received a commission as a Purser in San Francisco.

Upon leaving the sea Mr. Smith returned to the University and graduated in June, 1947, at the age of nineteen. While at the University he was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, president of the Hellenic Literary Society, member of the Ole Miss band and orchestra, on the staff of the Rebel and a 1st Lt. in the Army R. O. T. C.

Shortly after graduating from college Mr. Smith went abroad and visited in Germany, Holland, Sweden and Denmark.

In early 1951 the yen to write a novel struck Mr. Smith, and he started "The River Is Home," which was written partly in Mississippi and finished in Florida. He used as his setting a place where he had camped, hunted and fished in his early boyhood, the Pearl River.

Mr. Smith is presently serving as Vice-President of the Mississippi Junior Chamber of Commerce. He is the son of Highway Commissioner and Mrs. John D. Smith of Mendenhall, and is married to the former Iris Doty of DeLand, Fla.

Social Security Quiz Questions and Answers

Do you know your rights under the Social Security program? The Sea Coast Echo, in cooperation with Mrs. Lula Wimberly, field office manager, Gulfport, is publishing a series of question and answer columns explaining the new program.

The questions will be drawn from those most frequently asked by persons who have made inquiries at the field office.

If you have a question that you would like answered, address your letter to the Social Security office, 1214-24th avenue, Gulfport, Miss. That office will reply direct to you.

Question: I've been told I need six credits of work before I can qualify for social security. What is meant by credits of work?

Answer: Any calendar 3-months period, starting January 1, April 1, July 1, or October 1, in which you were paid wages of at least $50. Net earnings of $400 or more from covered self-employment during a taxable year will give 4 quarters of coverage, or 4 "credits."

Question: How much wages may I earn and still draw my social security benefits?

Answer: $75.00 a month.

Question: My father is 77 years old and retired. Is there any way he can make himself eligible for social security benefits to supplement his present small pension?

Answer: Yes. If he works for wages of at least $50.00 in six different 3-month periods (18 months in all) he can file a claim for monthly benefits.

Question: What are the maximum benefits payable to a family?

Answer: $168.00 a month.

County Agent's Notes

By HOWARD SIMMONS

Using high protein feeds like cottonseed cake or meal with low grade hays stalks, dry frosted or silage will aid in carrying beef cattle through the winter.

Cattle must eat large quantities of roughage in order to get through the winter in good condition. Low grade roughages, lacking in protein and phosphorus are not appetizing to cattle.
Feeding cotton seed meal, cake or soybean oil meal will make the roughages more appetizing and will also add the vital proteins and phosphorus.

Feed from one to two and a half pounds per head daily of cotton seed meal or other suitable protein supplement depending on condition of the cows.
Feed greater amounts to cows nursing calves, and the lesser amounts to dry cows.

FARMERS who still have ryegrass, wheat, oats or clovers to plant should remember to cover and pack all plantings. Clovers should be packed before and after planting.

Some good winter-time pasture jobs to do now are: Cleaning all bushes and briars off pastures, repairing all fences, putting in cross fences, preparing land for next March planting of Dallas and lespedeza, studying every pasture area and making notes on what is needed on them next summer.

Livestock should not be turned on winter grazing areas too soon. Do not graze until the crops are eight to ten inches tall.
Ten don't graze heavily. Allow the stock to remain on winter grazing crops for about three hours a day; then take them off and put them back on permanent pastures.

Remember to construct fire
lanes around all pasture areas.
Don't let hogs root up your pastures. Fires and rooting hogs are two of the worst enemies of good pastures, so don't play host to either.

HOME GARDENING
There is still time to plant a few hardy vegetables in the open.
In Hancock County spinach, leaf lettuce, kale, rape, onions, turnips mustard radish and Swiss chard can be planted.

Those who fail to get a fall
garden planted can have a Christmas garden under cover. Build a coldframe now and plant parsley, mustard, beets, onions, tender greens, lettuce, radish.

INSURE

YOUR PROPERTY

with

JOS. O. MAUFFRAY

Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Some November and December gardening jobs include spreading barnyard manure, rotted sawdust and leaves over the garden and plowing under; saving wood ashes to apply to garden later in year; repairing garden fences;
cleaning, repairing and storing gardening tools. Don't forget to do a thorough cleaning job inside and outside the home garden.

CATTLE GRUBS
Cattle grubs in the backs of cattle retard growth and damage choice cuts of meat, reduce milk production and damage the hide.
Get rid of them.

Rotate dust at one or one and a half percent strength will give control. Apply directly to the backs of cattle and rub well into holes that the grubs have cut in the backs. One pound will give a thorough treatment to 10 to 15 cows.

DOCK AND ONIONS

Spray dock with an amine 2, 4-D solution and repeat the job in March. Get rid of wild onions with amolec hydride and repeat in March.

For more information on dock and onion control, cattle feeding, insect control, pasture planning and home gardening, see your local county agent.

Benjamin diBenedetto Wedding Celebrated at Our Lady Of The Gulf

Miss Mary L. diBenedetto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph diBenedetto of Bay St. Louis, became the bride of Harry L. Benjamins of Amsterdam, New York, Sunday, November 23, at 3:00 p. m. at Our Lady of the Gulf church.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Hugh J. Taylor.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a blue wool suit with blue accessories and a dusty rose hat. She wore a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. J. C. Roland Jr., served her sister as matron of honor. She wore a green crepe dress with black accessories and a corsage of yellow rose buds.

George diBenedetto, brother of the bride, was best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Carroll avenue, for members of the immediate family.

A three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, centered the table; containers of white chrysanthemums and fern were on either side.

The couple was assisted in receiving by the bride's mother and Mrs. Roland.

Following a short wedding trip along the coast, the couple left for New York, where they will make their home, Wednesday. For traveling the bride wore a grey wool suit with blue accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The bride has been employed at the Hancock Bank in Gulfport for the past two years. The bridegroom, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Benjamin, is Provost Marshal at Brooklyn Army Base.

Out-of-town guests were the bride's sister, Miss Nina diBenedetto, and her aunt, Mrs. Lorena Nash of New Orleans; and the bride's cousins, Mrs. Joseph Lenti, Gulfport, and Mr. and Mrs. Quill Harbin, Mobile, Ala.

LETTERS

MORE FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Following Howard Lettister's suggestion of last week I would like to add my comments concerning the bridge.

First let me say that I agree. However, there are several other points to be considered which were not covered in his letter.

Perhaps the most important is the matter of safety. In my opinion this bridge, or pier would not be safe for children. I know that it's strong and wide (for pedestrian use) but it's high and who is going to keep children from playing around the railings and possibly falling off. Such a fall could be fatal. It might be said "that is the parents' responsibility," but we all know children will be playing there alone. They play on the beach without their parents and there is no reason to believe that they wouldn't play on the bridge.

Consider, too, you will, what would happen if a lot of people, especially children, were out on the end of the bridge and a fire should break out near the land end. What would happen to the people caught on the bridge? It isn't a pleasant thing to think about but we had better think about it before it is too late. I'm not familiar with the law in a situation such as this and there might not be any legal liability, but would we want to have such an unnecessary tragedy on our conscience?

As far as using it for a swimming pier is concerned, the structure as it now stands is absolutely useless for such a purpose. It has been said that a platform would be built at the end of this 2,000 foot pier. Who is going to pay for that and what will you have when it is finished? Will the city or county hire a life guard to pull out the non-swimmers or poor swimmers who will get in trouble in the deep water? Or will there be someone there to keep such people from going off the platform? Signs won't do as has been proven so many times away from this situation by building several expensive platforms along the way.

Who is going to take the responsibility for making this project safe? Can it be done without incurring continuous heavy expenses?

That one dollar the county will pay for this old bridge could well become the most expensive purchase the county has ever made. Let's not be blinded by what seems like a tremendous bargain. In closing, let me say that I believe Representative Phillips made arrangements to enable us to purchase this old bridge because he thought that was what the people wanted.

After careful consideration maybe the proponents of this project will reconsider. I hope so.

Sincerely,
DON McCULLOUGH

To The Civic Minded People of Bay St. Louis:

Last week my good friend Howard Lettister wrote you through our local papers a challenging letter. The question is whether or not we shall, after considerable work and effort on our part to get the State to allow a part of the present wooden bridge to remain as a recreation pier, throw away that effort.

I admit that Mr. Lettister raised some questions that should be solved and answered by Civic Minded individuals.

I do not admit that they have us licked and we should give up the idea of a recreation pier. If the Hancock County Board of Supervisors obligated themselves to maintain the pier and keep it in good repair, WHY SHOULD WE DOUBT THEIR ABILITY AND INTENTION TO DO SO?

Why is it evident that funds must come from Beat Five alone? Will not the public generally be allowed use of the pier without regard to which Beat they vote in or whether they are from Hancock County or not?

Must we go without a pier, because, as Howard says, in one, or two or ten years the structure is sure to rot, burn or be blown down by a storm?

Why put on a clean shirt, Howard, it will only get dirty again. Why eat lunch if you will only get hungry again?

We have given up far too many things for our civic good because of what might happen.

How many of us had losses during the storm of 1947 and how many of us have replaced these losses by as good or better?

True, many things of a public nature have lagged. Whose fault is that?

Our improvements can be made by our City, County, State and Nation but if we back out of them because of rot, fire or wind we will never accomplish anything.

I will grant that the appearance of the old "rotting" useless pier marring our beaches is anything but good and shows lack of civic interest and pride on the part of those individuals responsible as well as the rest of us who call ourselves Civic Minded residents.

BUT, is it the answer to give up everything that has good in it because evil may result. I think the answer is no. Don't you? Let's take up the challenge. Let's make a Creditable Public Pier. Let's keep it that way.

Let's not surrender and give up the fight without a try.

Let's call on every organization and civic minded individual to get advice on this and other projects for the good of our community.
